

a x e s m u n d i

events in the natural and cultural landscape as intersections of space + time

Monday, September 23, 2013

Exhibitions | Joan Waltemath's at Schema Projects, Bushwick

Joan Waltemath's (at Schema Projects, Bushwick) tall graphite on mylar drawings seem minimal at first, then become a meditative experience of lush black graphite, delicately calibrated scale relations, and mystical ideas about numbers and small surprises that really matter. The gallery is out of the way but lovely and welcoming. <http://schemaprojects.com/exhibition-JoanWaltemath.html>

Jill Nathanson